Remember some of the most important issues of this campaign will be settled on primary day, September 5th. You can afford to wait until November to vote for U. S. Senator and State officers.

TIME IS SHORT.

Tuesday, September 5th, will finish the political aspirations of many a candidate for office by the sovereign will of the voters of the state. It has been a long and strenuous campaign.
Some way or other the political speakers have not been greeted with the enthusiasm of past years and they find it hard to understand why so little real activity is being taken in their own personal aspirations.

They fail to realize that the voters have come to a stage of reading and thinking for themselves. Hardly a home in the country now does not have its daily papers and the readers keep pace with the outside world as they were not able to a few years ago.
Then, too, they are looking into matters themselves. They do not take someone else's word for the fact that taxes will be up or down.

They know whether they are or not.
They know why, what is more. If their state tax is less, as it is this year, and yet their total is less, it is greater, they know the difference is owing to local taxes and no words of the spell-binder can make them believe otherwise. The farmer of today is not the farmer of ten or a dozen years ago. They know what is behind the scenes in Washington as well as at Madison.

They know whether the Wisconsin republican senator voted for section in the Underwood tariff law that are throwing the markets of this country open to foreign invasion to their detriment or not. They have decided to vote for Hughes—for the most part—and if they do that they realize they must vote for a republican, a true republican—like Jeffries—for the United States senatorial nomination to give him backing.

In state affairs they are pleased with Philipp and his work and mean to renominate him, but they also realize that to accomplish anything he must have a legislative back of him to help him enact laws and prevent looting of the state treasury by increasing taxes. To do this they are going to vote for Laurence E. Cunningham to represent Rock and Walworth counties in the state senate, and Laurence C. Whittet in the first assembly district in Rock county and Albert Winnegar in the second.

No need to vote for Philipp and then send men who are his personal enemies to Madison to combat his measures? No need to plan to vote for Hughes and then nominate a man who has voted with the democrats against the interests of the producers, the farmers and manufacturers, to help take wages out of the working man's pockets and increase his living expenses. No sir; the average voter is thinking for himself and the result on primary day will show it.

THE REST ROOM.

Now that the women's rest room has become an established fact citizens wonder why the idea was never presented in operation before. They do not realize that it is the result of the united efforts of the women of the city. That its success today is assured only by the vigilance of these same women who unselfishly give of their time and money to make it a place where it does a real work in the community.

The winter months are coming when its value will be far more essential than at present. Problems will be presented for consideration of the women in charge that will doubtless present the scope of the activity of the present organization. It will develop, not gradually, but by leaps and bounds and the business men of the city who have generously donated money for its conception and installing will see the results come back to them like bread upon the waters.

All roads lead to Janesville. In this day of modern travel by auto a dozen thousand miles is nothing, and the certainty of a place to rest and refresh themselves will bring many an out of town resident into the city to do their shopping instead of going elsewhere. It is an asset to the entire community. A valuable asset, the worth of which will increase as the months go by and its work is better appreciated.

IF TRAINS STOPPED?

What would happen in case of a general and prolonged railroad strike?
Evidently the American people would be up against one of the greatest practical exigencies that a civilized society ever confronted.

But human ingenuity has marvelous gifts of meeting such situations. There would be a few weeks of chaos. But the American people are resourceful.
They would immediately set themselves to work to devise substitute systems of transportation.

As the pending controversies relate only to freight traffic it has been said that passenger business would not be much interfered with. But it would be a mistake to keep men busy running passenger trains who would be needed in the more vital work of handling freight.

Half of the passenger traffic could stop without doing any very serious harm. People could take their outings at home. Suburban dwellers could depend on trolleys and jitneys.
Business men could use the telephone.
As the mail trains would probably be kept running, letters and circulars could serve. The tendency is to give traveling salesmen compact territory to cover. The greater part of them could make their routes by automobile.

The stoppage of freight trains would paralyze all industry. Food distribution today is an amazingly complex machine. The breaking down of the system means famine in a few days. At all hazards public sentiment would demand that the freight business must be maintained.

The calamity is so great as to be almost unthinkable. Yet it may take some such disaster to arouse public sentiment to the need for some system for settling labor disputes. The suffering of a strike might be worth while, if it could be settled once for all that neither labor unions nor corporations own the whole United States, and that neither has any right to inflict suffering on the public in order to gain their own ends.

The theory of the quarrelling labor unions and corporations is that they can make themselves more prosperous by impoverishing the general public on which they depend for their success.

The railroad men say they have been fighting thirty years for an eight hour day, and the down-trodden railroad clerks have been struggling for an equal period to keep their hours from being increased to that point.

It being proposed that the government appropriate $200,000 for the West Virginia flood sufferers, congress should not forget to spend $200, 000,000 for the people who are suffering from the damage to the crops.

In case of a railroad strike, there are a few people who would be glad to walk or ride in a wheelbarrow, if it could be secured once for all that this country is not owned solely by the labor unions or the corporations.

Everyone agrees with Mr. Hughes' condemnation of the men who get rich at public expense, and everybody else is awfully pleased on getting an invitation to take dinner with these same men.

There is a widespread demand from dairymen for advanced prices of milk, so that the farmer can still make money without the bother of keeping books.

Political rallies cost more money than political advertising in the newspapers, and the rallies are highly successful in persuading the voters to do just what they intended to all along.

Some of the candidates will persist in discussing the issues of the campaign, when what the voters want to know about is the chance of getting pork for their districts.

It is surprising how a man with $2,999 income becomes convinced of the justice of the income tax when he learns that the exemption is not to be reduced below $3,000.

Signs of the Safety First movement can be seen now in the care with which the girls arrange heavy awnings to make their porches shady after dark.

It is believed that the federal government will get around to stop the high price of gasoline within a few months after it has got down to normal figures.

There are some people who would be willing to spend $1,000 in advertising if you would guarantee them $5.00 immediate net profit.

The congressmen are doing their best to save themselves the disgrace of coming before the voters with a surplus left idle in the treasury.

According to many automobile drivers, accidents will happen as long as the railroad trains refuse to stop when the motors blow their horns.

Corn is being distributed to the starving Mexicans, but it will take ammunition to satisfy their real hunger.

The Daily Novelette

THE PERILS OF EUSTACE.

The nature feminine is prone, to paradoxes sly.
A woman cannot throw a stone, But she can heave a sigh.

"Pardon me, madam, but is your baby's life insured?" suavely asked Eustace Smooth, agent for the General and Particular Insurance Co.
"Why no," answered the stout woman, rocking the infant on her front porch. "The dear little thing hardly has any life to insure, he's so teeny weeny." "Bless him!"

"Amen," responded Eustace Smooth cheerfully, "but have you reflected, madam, that four out of every ten babies in this latitude die before reaching the age of twenty-eight years?"

"Oh, no, no!"
"It is true, madam, sad but true.
Eight thousand die every year from infantile amblyosis, 7000 from babular umversion, 5000 from—"
"Oh, sir, cease, a prithree!"

"From fatty amalgamation of the spivix, 4500—" But by this time his voice was drowned out by the terrified mother's outcries. A brawny party in suspenders rushed from the house brandishing a whip. The wailing mother pointed through her tears at Eustace Smith.

"Oh, you did, did you?" roared the brawny party, and gave Smooth such a thrashing that if he hadn't been insured in his own company against assault and battery, he would have been Calve's Retirement.

What's this the papers tell about?
Calve says that she is too stout to sing the modern opera stuff And must retire? Gee, that's tough.

Since childhood we've been wont to Our hard-earned dough to hear Calve.

Our grandpa says he's heard her, too.
When he was young, and now she's through.

They say Calve has grown so fat She can't reach up to pin her hat,
And can't live in a modern flat, And move around. But, what of that?

Suppose she does take lots of space,
You cannot say that's a disgrace.
I care not for her size, by jing!
I go to hear the lady sing.

Our oldest institutions must Be kept a-going, friends, or bust.
The greatest Carmen of the age We'll hear, though we enlarge the stage.

I want my grandsons to enjoy The voice I heard when but a boy.
Is a burning shame, I say,
To lose the fair but fat Calve.

The Croaker.
A croaker sat on the grumbler's bench and croaked that the town was dead and he'd did once he lift his hand to push his town ahead.
He cursed and swore with all his might That a town he never did see—as bum as 'em could be. And so he sat from early morn, each bright and happy day, and croaked and croaked and croaked, until the summer passed away. And then one night when the wind blew cold and the winter time had come, he croaked his last and closed his eyes upon his earthly home. But when he reached the other shore—the city bright and fair, it was no good, 'twas dull and drear, he never would enter there! And since there was no other place, to the man, unwept, unsung—none cared a bloomin' cent.

Happiness.
If you go round giving one gob of gloom
And lookin' like the inside of a tomb,
And bein' pessimistic as you go, You're bound to get back a lot of woe.
If you go 'round passin' a word of cheer
And makin' folks glad that they are here, Contentment is bound ter come to you
And stick to you always jes' like glue.
Happiness ain't in no certain place,
It ain't in chasin' no pertickler face, It ain't to be caught by runnin' around And havin' a gosh-durned lot of ground.
Per happiness is jest the same as peff.
It ain't no good 'less you make it yourself.
It's somethin' no mortal man kin buy
No matter how hard he may search and try.
For happiness 'taint no use to roam.
You're more apt to find it right to home.

NEWS NOTES—MOVIELAND

This is to introduce Clarence J.
Harris, chief actor in a little vocational drama entitled, "From Ministry to the Movies; or, How I Gave Up Sermons for Scenarios." Mr. Harris used to worry over Proverbs. Now he worries over plots for new scripts to be screened by directors. For Mr. Harris is one of the staff of scenario writers. Our hero quotes the Bible as saying: "He who does not provide for his family is worse than an infidel." I do not want to be in such a class, he says, "and I can't avoid doing so if I kept up my pastoral work." So I began writing scripts.

Mr. Harris is 43 years old, and left the ministry after twenty years of active work. In the last three years that he has been writing scenarios he has sold 375 reels to more than fifty different producing companies. Now he lives in a comfortable Washington Heights apartment in New York city.

Herbert Brenon, who directed the William Fox picture, "A Daughter of the Gods," starring Annette Kellerman, has sued the Fox company for $100,000, declaring he has been damaged to that extent through the erasion of his name from the advertisements and film title of the production.

At the same time he filed an injunction to prevent the showing of the picture. His petition Mr. Brenon says the picture cost about $1,000,000 to produce and that Miss Kellerman receives a salary of $1,500 a week. He also drew $250 a week, he says, declaring this sum is nothing when compared with the prestige he would receive if given the publicity Mr. Fox promised him.

How to make passing royalty pay attention to the motion picture camera is one of the tricks of the trade which Sidney Olcott, director, discusses. "When the king of England passes," he says, "cheer for him in his foreign tongue, French or German, and he'll look every time. When the kaiser is marching head front give cheer in English and he'll wheel his face into the camera."

Mux Linder, the European film comedian, is coming to America under contract, according to advices from Paris. He is said to have been signed on a long term contract by George K.
Spoor.

BEAVER DAM WALLOPED
IN GAME YESTERDAY, 11-5

Whitewater, Aug. 28.—Beaver Dam was given a bad beating here yesterday by the local team, the score being 11 to 5. In the first inning Whitewater made four runs; Goodman fled out to center, O'Brien walked, Brusk hit to center, Mercere walked, bases full, a good one and hit to deep center for three bases and scored on Bloch's safe drive to pitch-out stealing second. McShane tightened up for four innings and in the sixth it looked as though he never would give up. The team batted around and five runs were made, and McShane was taken out and Lange took his place. Helming for the locals pitched good ball, getting eleven strikeouts and allowing six hits. Brusk, the new fielder, made three runs and had two hits, for three bases, and caught two flies. Reilly was the cause of five runs and made one himself.

AT THE BEVERLY TUESDAY.

"Naked Hearts." Tennyson's "Maud," one of the most beautiful and mysterious poems ever written, has been made the basis of "Naked Hearts," the Bluebird photoplay announced for exhibition at the Beverly Theatre on Tuesday, with Francella Billington playing the chief female role, in support of Rupert Julian, with a skillful company of cameoes. An intensely dramatic, beautiful in the extreme, and filled with emotional passages and sensational episodes, there is sure to be praise for a feature that is keyed to the usual Bluebird standard and presented with the accustomed lavishness these photoplays invariably evidence. It can have not already become familiar with Tennyson's classic, read it and then find the poem realized in this beautiful picture-play.

AT THE BEVERLY TONIGHT.

"The Bugle Call," a Wonderful Picture.
A new star of the Triangle program is Willie Collier, Jr., son of the famous Broadway fun maker, William Collier, who has been appearing in Triangle plays for some months. The younger Collier, a boy of 14, has the leading role in "The Bugle Call," a drama of frontier life by C. Gardner Sullivan, to be seen at the Beverly theater tonight.

The boy actor has the part of Little Billy, ten-year-old son of Captain William Andrews, commander of the military frontier post of Fort McPherson, and is dearly beloved by every one in the place. He has ambition in life, which he has expressed in his good friend, Sergeant Hogan, and the idea of becoming a good soldier. This is one of the best pictures the Beverly has shown and won rounds of applause last evening.

NATIONAL TAX BODY
IN SESSION TO DISCUSS
PUBLIC UTILITIES VALUES

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE) Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 28.—Tax officials from various states, economists specializing in public finance, and others interested in the question of taxation, met here today for a four-days' conference of the National Tax association. The meeting marks the tenth anniversary of the Association's work, and it is declared that this year's conference will be of more than ordinary importance because of a number of changes that are pending in taxation schemes.

The states, as a rule, it is pointed out, are all confronted with problems of increased expenditures and are without definite programs for meeting them.
In addition federal revenue schemes will be discussed, including the income tax which has had two years' trial.
The subject of the allocation of public service corporation values will be definitely approached by the Association for the first time through the report of a special committee.

COTTON AND PAPER USED TO MAKE NEW TEXTILE; RECENT GERMAN DISCOVERY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Copenhagen, Denmark, Aug. 28.—A new German textile in which paper is spun with about 20 per cent of cotton is being exhibited here.
Unspun cotton in the form of down is spun to one side of endless rolls of paper and the paper is then spun into narrow bands, which are spun with the cotton side outward.
Danish experts were shown paper underclothing, jerseys, sheets, bandages and horse-blankets, but the cost of production of the article is said to be too high to allow of its competing with cotton or woolen cloth under normal conditions.

Filial Affection.

At a wine party of young men at one of the colleges, notes of apology were handed in from two of the proposed guests, who were unable to attend owing to the death of their father. A young gentleman, heir to a considerable property, who had been parading freely of the hospitalities of the festive board, suddenly burst into tears. "Was this dear old gentleman a friend of yours?" asked the sympathetic host. "No, no, it's not that," sobbed the guest; "only—I was just thinking—everybody's father dies but mine."

EVEN DAD TO HAVE A DAY IN MILWAUKEE IN NOVEMBER

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 28.—"Father's Day" will be observed in Milwaukee early in November. Mayor Hoan has stated that he will issue a proclamation fixing the date. The object of the day is to bring to the attention of fathers and sons the need for close sympathy and the constant need for sons for fatherly advice. Services probably will be held in several churches in connection with the movement.

PAPERS ADOPTING MEASURES TO MEET SUPPLY SHORTAGE

Newspapers Planning to Curtail Use of Paper to Meet Shortage—Gazette Gets Paper From Large Mill.

The question of white paper supply has become so acute that newspapers are adopting measures of curtailment all over the country as a matter of self-preservation. In many sections newspapers are threatened with extinction through their inability to secure enough stock from any source except at a price which is absolutely prohibitive.

The Daily Gazette has been fortunate in transacting its business with one of the largest mills in the country and its requirements are assured for the next few months at a considerable rise in price, but with no particular rise in sight so far as price and supply are concerned after that period.

Some idea may be gained in regard to the rise in price of print paper from the fact that the usual rate is about 2c at the mill, while the quotations at present are around 6c and 6.25 per pound at the mill.

At a meeting in Chicago, August 22, of the Inland Daily Press association, of which the Daily Gazette is a member, in conjunction with the Illinois Newspaper association, which is comprised of outside newspapers of the state outside of Chicago, the subject of print paper supply occupied the entire time of the meeting and the following resolution was adopted: Whereas, At a joint meeting of the Inland Daily Press Association, the Illinois Daily Newspaper Association, newspaper publishers, and editors, held in Chicago August 22, 1916, comprising editors and publishers of the central west, the present crisis in the production of news print was fully discussed, and

Whereas, Information gathered from many sources developed the fact that the present price and the apparent scarcity of news print threatens to force the discontinuance of the publication of the newspapers of many of the members to the great disadvantage of the newspaper reader and the general public; and

Whereas, The newspaper publishers of the country have instituted every economy to reduce the consumption of news print by reduction in size of its product and the general elimination of waste, it was, by a unanimous vote

Resolved, That the newspaper publishers here represented, request their representatives in Washington to seriously consider the present condition of the news print paper market for the purpose of taking all necessary action toward securing such conditions in any and every way possible, and particularly in the investigation and the manufacture of print paper, and its distribution, sale and management.

FALLS UNDER AUTO IN FALL OFF BIKE

Son of John Sheridan Has Lucky Escape at Corn Exchange During Morning.

William Sheridan, the ten year old son of John J. Sheridan, had a narrow escape from possibly fatal injury this morning at 10:15 o'clock when his bicycle slipped on the slippery pavement at the Corn Exchange and he fell beneath a large automobile. His presence of mind and the fact that he was traveling but six miles an hour no doubt saved his life.

Young Sheridan fell directly in front of the machine, but stretched out lengthwise when he saw the car. He was taken to the hospital of Redwood where he is now lying.

The bicycle was damaged by a front wheel, but Haahn told Chief of Police Champion, who was standing nearby, to have it repaired and sent to him. Spectators did not hold the Redwood man as negligent in his driving.

Forty Years Ago

Janesville Daily Gazette, Monday, August 28, 1876.—The hay fever is having its run and several persons are affected with it in this city.

The fall term of the Janesville Classical academy will open Monday, September 1, instead of September 5 as before advertised.

The boys and girls will remember that the water jubilee and house party will be Tuesday evening. Calico dresses and straw hats are in order.

A young alderman made its appearance in the fifth ward the other night. On sale at the Gazette office, William Hamming and weighing twelve pounds, which is pretty good for an alderman.

We regret to announce the death of James Blair, which took place early this morning. The funeral services will be attended on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock, from residence, No. 14 Mineral Point Avenue.

We are informed that John Stoddard of this city was a passenger on the steamship Colon bound from New York to Aspinwall, and which exploded her boilers when two days out from New York. Several persons were killed and many passengers scalded, but Stoddard escaped all harm. The explosion occurred on the 22nd, and the steamship reached New York on Saturday.

On Saturday evening, about five o'clock, as Orrin Mosher, a lather was on the upper dam, he lost his footing and fell over the dam and was carried a considerable distance down stream. D. C. Ward by means of a rake brought him to shore. He was found to be around, and today he is attending to his regular business.

DELANVAN

Delavan, Aug. 26.—The remains of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walton, buried here from Milwaukee at 10:30 this morning and buried in St. Andrew's cemetery. The day following after birth Thursday evening, August 24, Mrs. Walton is a sister of Justin Carvey of Milwaukee and of Leo Carvey, who with his wife came from Elkhorn for the infant's burial. Mrs. Bert Green of Milwaukee and Mr. Carvey also accompanied the remains here.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gardener and child will arrive here from Evansville tomorrow, where they visited the former's mother.

Miss Jennie McCarthy, who is taking a two weeks' vacation from her work at the Bradley mill, will go to Racine today at one o'clock and will return with her car.

A party of girls composed of the Misses Florence E. Ryan, Anna Flynn and Alice Doyle of Milwaukee are camping in one of Mrs. Barnes' cottages on the nearly wooded grounds.

A very well attended meeting of the Walworth County Jersey Breeders' association is being held this afternoon at the farm home of F. F. Showers, E. C. Foster has given his cow demonstration at 2 o'clock.

S. Hulce of the University of Wisconsin gave an excellent address on cow troubles. F. M. Higgins of Lake Geneva also spoke, and H. C. Felt, the prominent held the interest of all in his lecture on the cow and the farmer. A picnic lunch was served.

The meeting which was called by J. S. Parsons, president of the Citizens' League of Delavan, for Friday, in the council rooms, to discuss the electric road situation, was well attended, the and evincing a keen interest in the affair. Committees were appointed and are now active in canvassing for the amount necessary to be pledged to the building of this road.

It is understood that Hamilton Browne of the Marengo, Lake Geneva & Northern Railway company, who was in the city last week, has let the contract for the building of this road from Marengo, Ill., to Delavan, and all that remains is the raising of the remainder of the funds or the disposing of the stock. The interest shown by the prominent men present at this meeting speaks well for the outcome of this advancement. Should everything turn out well in the raising of the amount the promoters of this enterprise promise a completion of the road by early spring.

H. Horton and F. G. Tanck and families attended the Beloit fair Friday afternoon.

Notices: The Gazette is on sale at Rust's Drug Store, opposite the Post Office.
